SUPREME COURT DENIES ACTION ON THREE LAWS

Will Not Review On Disputes Concerning New Deal

Washington, Oct. 19.—The Supreme Court refused today to pass on disputes challenging the constitutionality of three New Deal laws.

Legislation involved was the 1933 securities act requiring registration of stocks before public sale and provisions of the national industrial recovery act and the 1935 emergency relief measure authorizing government loans and grants for publicly-owned electric plants.

The tribunal denied a request by Edward F. McClellan, Boston attorney representing Vermont for permission to file a brief asking the justices to rule on constitutionality of the federal social security act when they decide the validity of the New York unemployment insurance law.

Announcement of the action was made late in the afternoon, apparently after the request had been denied by the Justice Department's Bureau of Legal Services.

McClellan contend that constitutionality of the federal law was involved in the state case to be argued soon. Chief Justice Hughes replied that attorneys in the New York controversy claimed the contrary.

Later John J. Bennett, Jr., New York attorney general filed a statement with the court contending that the state involves only the validity of the New York State unemployment insurance act under the constitution of the United States and in no manner involved a consideration of the federal social security act as do other state statutes which are dependent upon the federal act for their operation and effectiveness.

He urged that consideration of the New York cases be free from discussion or possible argument of the variations found in other state statutes or of their association with or their dependence upon the federal social security act.

Action on the New Deal controversies was based solely on whether there were grounds for supreme court review at this time. The rulings did not directly affect the merits of the legislation.

Government loans and grants for power plants were challenged by the Texas Utilities Company and the Alabama Power Company who lost in the federal district court for the District of Columbia. They asked the supreme court to take the unusual action of granting a review before the circuit court had rendered a decision.

Glenn Appeals To Cook Voters

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Otto F. Gruen, seeking election as the Republican nominee for U. S. senator said in a speech prepared for delivery tonight the voters were "too smart to permit the New Deal to buy their votes thus the expenditure of six huge sums of money."

"They know it is their own money the New Deal is using," he said as he campaigned in Cook county. "They know that every dollar of it comes from the pockets of the present taxayers or will come out of the pockets of future taxpayers."

"And the more they think about it, the sadder they become x x x."

Seamen Saved in Lake Erie Disaster

Seven seamen were saved and 20 were missing when the freighter, the Merchantman, capsized in one of the worst storms in years on Lake Erie 18 miles northeast of Cleveland, Ohio, about 4:30 A.M. Saturday morning. The ship was bound for Toledo, Ohio, from Duluth, Minn., when it struck a rock.

Later John J. He urged that consideration of the New York cases be free from discussion or possible argument of the variations found in other state statutes or of their association with or their dependence upon the federal social security act.

Action on the New Deal controversies was based solely on whether there were grounds for supreme court review at this time. The rulings did not directly affect the merits of the legislation.

Government loans and grants for power plants were challenged by the Texas Utilities Company and the Alabama Power Company who lost in the federal district court for the District of Columbia. They asked the supreme court to take the unusual action of granting a review before the circuit court had rendered a decision.

Another New Highway

Citizens of the Arenville and Concord communities have reason to be jubilant today as work is scheduled to start on a highway that has been in various stages of promotion for several years. The improved highway is to connect these two towns extending a direct route to Jacksonville. While many citizens had hoped that a concrete highway would be built, they are appreciative of the all-weather route which should be completed by January 1.

Practically all of the new highway lies in Morgan county. It will extend north from the 9 foot cement slab at Concord, and end on Arenville, a town to which both Morgan and Cass counties have common claim. While the larger part of the village is in Cass county, a small section of the town is Morgan county territory.

Building of the road will bring to a close a campaign that has been in progress for many months. Citizens of these towns and people living along the route have carried on an active fight to get the road. There have been numerous conferences with state highway authorities; business men of both villages were solidly behind the movement; the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce gladly gave its support to the improvement, which links this city and the northwest section of the county closely. Frequent checks of daily traffic over the route showed that some sort of a permanent roadway was needed.

A 30 foot width of the highway is to be graded and oiled. Down the center a section 18 feet wide is to be given a final treatment. Grading and other preliminary work already has been finished.

The Concord-Arvelle road is an improvement that has been needed for years. It should prove beneficial for not only the two towns involved, but for towns located on hard roads at some distance, including Jacksonville. The people of Arenville and farming communities north of Concord will soon enjoy the use of an all-weather route on which they can come to this city any time they please, and leave the car chains at home.

Our Horses in Cuba

Few Illinois farmers are aware of the fact but many of them have been raising colts for Cuba. When they sell a good-looking young roadster, that's usually the last they hear of it. Within a few months the two-year-old may be down on the island where bananas and revolutions flourish packing around a Havana police officer or one of the numerous colonels or generals of the Cuban army.

According to reports from the East St. Louis market, the Illinois-bred horses have been doing a good job on foreign soil, for Cuban buyers are eager for the choice selections. It is said that more than 2,000 horses from Illinois and adjacent states have found their way to Cuba during the last year. Previous to that time, Cuban buyers were active on the Kansas City market.

Horses especially the spirited roadsters that one frequently sees, have a fairly high sentimental standing in this state. Everyone admires a pretty horse, they are petted and pampered by owners. When it comes time to sell them, the owner wants them to go into humane hands.

It will be a startling disclosure to many who have sold horses to learn that Cuba is getting some of them. If the Cubans want the horses to ride in peaceful pursuits, all well and good. If they are buying up Illinois horses to slaughter in a future revolution, losers of fine livestock will be a little more careful about how or where they dispose of their property.

Browder Misinformed

Earl Browder is the Communist candidate for President of the United States. The Communist party has no place on the ballot at the coming election in Illinois. It was ruled off by authority of the Illinois Supreme court, sitting as an election committee at request of the board of certification, composed of state officers.

In one of his campaign speeches in the east Browder explained why his ticket was ruled off in this state. He declared that "the Republican Supreme court justices of Illinois ruled the Communists off the ballot in order to claim if the Democrats win, that it was with Communist votes."

Mr. Browder had not checked up on his information as to the political complexion of the Illinois Supreme court. Only one of the seven judges—Justice Stone of Peoria, is Republican; the other six are Democrats.

The reason the supreme court ruled the Communist ticket off the ballot was that they had come to conclusion that the party had not satisfied the requirements of the state election law. Any other party finding itself in the same position would have been ruled off. The Illinois Supreme court has shown that it is a careful guardian of minor parties, regardless of by what name they are known.

Navy Day Oct. 27

Residing hundreds of miles inland the people of Jacksonville and community probably will not give much thought to U.S. Navy Day, Oct. 27. A little attention to some of the facts concerning our sea forces, however, will not be out of place. We may be far removed from the two oceans and the Gulf, but those business-like guns on the sleek crafts that move in and out of the harbors mean as much to us, after all, as they do to citizens of San Diego, Calif., or Hampton Roads.

It is fitting that Navy Day is celebrated on the birthday anniversary of the late Theodore Roosevelt, who is credited with having been foremost among the nation's presidents in promoting a sound naval policy. The observance annually is sponsored by the Navy League of the United States.

The slogan of this year's Navy Day is "Sea Power—What Is It?" The slogan was selected to show the close analogies between the navy and sea power, and the dependence of national security and prosperity on the power.

The term sea power means essentially, the influence a nation can exert to secure and uphold its interests on the oceans of the world. In times past it has had other and wider meanings: command of the seas, sovereignty of the seas, freedom of the seas. But today it is recognized that no nation has the right, even if it were practicable, to claim exclusive control of the seas, either in peace or war.

In times of peace the principle is generally recognized that the seas are free to all nations for every lawful use. In times of war the most to which a belligerent nation can claim is keeping the seas open for its own and friendly shipping and to deny them to the enemy. The term sea power further implies the ability to protect the coasts of a nation from aggression.

Within the United States are 125,000,000 persons totally dependent for their property upon free and unrestricted trade and intercourse with the rest of the world. Outside the continental limits we have numerous insular and overseas possessions to which our obligation is definite.

For the safeguarding of these coasts for the protection of our overseas trade and all its interests and for the security of our possessions, we maintain the navy. We desire to maintain it, and it is our duty to do so, at sufficient strength to meet our responsibilities. That is all the average American asks—he does not want our warships to go out hunting trouble. But if trouble develops with a feeling of security that we will send a fleet of staunch warships, submarines and planes flying the American flag and ready to protect our shores.

HOLD YOUR EARS, EVERYBODY!Reckless Stunt Flyers Did Their Part, Too

By Bruce Catton

Probably nobody will bother about air was so extremely hazardous that it, but right now wouldn't be a bad idea to take a bit of luck and extraordinary skill to live to drop a wreath or two in the sky above, and that it was foolish to do so in honor of the first flight. The noise that hurt-much, haphazard stunts so many headlines could not bring much excitement and provided just a long casualty list back in the days when it began about 10 years ago.

The Pan American Clippers are carrying mail express and passengers over the Pacific on regular runs now, and similar trips will be shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic before long. And something of a debt is owed the stunters who tackled the oceans so safely back in the 20s.

It is hard even to remember the names of the flyers now. These were serious-minded technicians of the air, of course, such as Lindbergh and Chamberlin and the various army men. There were also a good many young daredevils who looked on the broad, peril-haunted seas as a challenge to their daring and who couldn't be happy until they had repaid the challenge.

The stunters, if they did nothing else, showed us just how dangerous an ocean flight can be. They emphasized in an unforgettable way the need for perfect organization, elaborate preparation, and better planes.

They at least demonstrated that the job wasn't going to be easy, and they did prove that it could be done if everything was right.

The lesson stuck. Pan American spent years getting ready for this Pacific line. It went to almost unbelievable lengths to make its flight safe and secure.

It insisted on getting planes of a type that most designers thought impossible to build in the days of the stunters.

Now we are at the goal of those 400 days of the mid-twenties. The old timers commercial basis.

It used to be the fashion, we remember, for serious-minded folk to a little of the credit ought to go to dismiss those flights as stunts. We those daring, foolhardy, and often were assured that the flyers professedly crack-brained youngsters who nothing; that an ocean crossing by set us to dreaming 10 years ago.

Democrats Start Late

Democrats have begun their campaign late, not really starting until the president's Chicago speech. In April's primaries they piled up a half a million more votes than Republicans and Illinois then seemed to assure New Deal bet.

Vigorous Republican efforts since Landon's nomination have produced some backswing. Whether the Republicans can successfully meet the impact of the Chicago, state, and federal Democratic patronage machines Nov. 3 may depend on the amount of money they can toss into the pot.

Major Kelly of Chicago says privately Roosevelt will get 1,100,000 votes in Cook county and Landon between 800,000 and 850,000.

If Kelly and Boss Paddy Nash and their city machine can make good on that estimate, it may be too bad for the Republicans, who aren't hoping for much better than a 200,000 plurality in the rest of the state.

Roosevelt carried Illinois by 450,000 in 1932 and Hoover by 650,000 in 1928. Roosevelt's 1932 lead came half from Chicago and half from downstate.

Intra-Party Scrap is Factor

Effect of state contests on the national elections in Illinois is variously interpreted. Governor Henry Horner, who trounced the Kelly-Nash machine in April, later tried to deny him a renomination, is battling for re-election against Republican "Curly" Wayland Brooks, former assistant state's attorney in Chicago.

In Chicago one hears Horner will run behind Roosevelt; downstate, that he will run ahead. On the other hand, you can hear many voters say they'll vote for Roosevelt and Brooks, which doesn't help clear the picture.

The extent to which the feud between Horner and the Kelly-Nash machine has been patched up is uncertain. Some believe Kelly and Nash are sharpening the knife for Horner in Cook county. But preponderant opinion is that they'll go down the line for Roosevelt, if only to preserve a stand-before going to work, to prevent the dryness that may result.

In preventing intoxication from carbon tetrachloride, good ventilation is of utmost importance. The fumes are heavier than air and seek lower levels. In large plants where many workers are employed, it is customary to build suction devices which will draw the fumes out of the room.

Carbon tetrachloride should never be used in shampoos for hair drying because of the danger of poisoning those on whom it is used.

A person who is acutely poisoned by carbon tetrachloride should be removed at once from contact with the substance and given plenty of fresh air. The doctor will alkalize the body, provide suitable remedies for building up the blood, and will guard against any possible dangers to stomach, kidneys, and other organs which may be damaged by this chemical.

An Ohio man has had flapjacks every morning for 50 years, and is considering putting his foot down.

The hands regularly with ointment in at Washington in case he is re-elected.

Law to Curb Vote Frauds

Regardless of how honest the count is, the Chicago election probably will be more honest than usual, because a new permanent registration law which Horner put through is expected to keep many thousand "dead men" from voting.

Cook county registration has topped 2,000,000, more than half the population, for the first time. Republicans describe this as a rush of protest against the New Deal and Democrats say it's part of an uprising of the underprivileged.

The old-line Chicago newspapers are loaded with anti-New Deal propaganda. Only the tabloid Chicago Times, which has shown tremendous circulation increase, champions the New Deal.

The downstate Republican plurality in the last Republican presidential year was 253,000. Old-timers are sure it won't be that big in 1936. One reason is that the poll taken by the Illinois State Journal of Springfield in Sangamon and surrounding counties gave Landon only 16,042 votes as compared with 14,860 for Roosevelt.

The State Journal is 100 per cent pro-Landon.

Of 16,668 ballots in Sangamon county, representing about a third of the vote, Landon had a plurality of 177, which would indicate a November margin of around 500 as compared with the county's normal G.O.P. plurality of 5,000.

Lemke Shows Strength

Lemke ran strong in the State Journal. Of 1475 ballots for him in Sangamon county, 899 came from the 1932 Roosevelt voters and 669 from 1932 Hoover voters.

Downstate farmers are likely to decide the Illinois result. Except in a small area, they have escaped the drought. Their emotions seem mixed between anger over agricultural imports and pleasure over greatly improved farm prices. Republicans need much better than a 50-50 break on the farms to give them the state.

Labor appears to be strongly for Roosevelt. Labor's Non-Partisan League is distributing from 400,000 to 600,000 propaganda leaflets each week, as well as sending three caravans through the state.

An important exception is the strong Progressive Miners Association downstate, most of whose members will vote for Lemke or Landon, because they believe a vote for Roosevelt is a vote for their enemy, John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

The Progressive League is active for Roosevelt, managed by Borah's press-convention manager, but speeches by such old-line anti-New Deal Democrats as Al Smith, Jim Reed, and Joseph Ely are also having some effect.

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS you can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and listless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEG-ETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women have been taking this famous old medicine to pep them up... to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEG-ETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEG-ETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

Throat Epidemic in Jersey High School

Directors Decide to Close for a Few Days to Check Spread of Disease

Jerseyville.—Directors of the Tendrille school in the western part of the county decided the latter part of the week to close the school for a few days in an effort to check a sore-throat epidemic which has developed in that locality.

During the past few weeks a number of people in that vicinity have been victims of severe sore throats and in one case the illness was diagnosed as diphtheria. The victim is the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kallalaken and the residence of the family has been placed under quarantine.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Downey and daughter, Miss Roma, returned Sunday to their home in Jerseyville from Pittsburgh, Pa., where they have been visiting the former's brother, Dr. S. W. Downey.

While on their visit they attended the Allegany County Fair and Mr. Downey purchased the champion Holstein cow which he sent as a gift to Farm Adviser C. T. Kibler of Jersey county. The animal is on display at the Farm Bureau office in Jerseyville.

County Clerk and Mrs. Frank Seago entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Saturday evening.

Rumor Walter Ryan White Hall Couple May Still Be Alive Honored Sunday on Stirs Beardstown Golden Anniversary

Searchers Fail to Find Body; Anderson Home in White Hall Scene of Gathering Honoring Ligons

Beardstown—Search for the body of Walter Ryan, who disappeared on Wednesday, was continued Sunday in the Illinois river at a point four miles below this city, where Ryan's capsized boat was found. His cap was also found floating on the water. Saturday searchers dynamited the river, but to no avail. Sunday they resorted to dragging, but were unable to locate the body.

There is a rumor on the streets here that Ryan's body may not be in the river at all, but that he has left this part of the country. The rumor is based on a story that he had told relatives he might take a trip after the election. It is understood he talked of going to Oklahoma.

A basket dinner was served at noon and group pictures were taken during the afternoon. An item of interest was the twentieth anniversary of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ligon and the fifteenth anniversary of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hoover of Milton. It was also the twenty-fourth anniversary of two of the guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Bristol of Milton.

DeKalb Teachers At Top in I.I.C.

Stand One Game Ahead of Co-Champion Monmouth Squad

Chicago — (P) — DeKalb's Northern Teachers hold top position in the Illinois Intercollegiate conference today, one game ahead of the 1935 co-champions of Monmouth. Each dropped rivals from the undefeated class Saturday.

The DeKalb Teachers swept over Wheaton 19 to 0 while Monmouth's Scots shot the works to hold a 7 to 0 edge over Bradley.

With Panish and McClarence, of Bradley, and Bob Reid of Monmouth, three of the conference's big scorers, all playing in the same game, Rollie Half McCann scored the only points by cracking a touchdown pass, and also by the conversion.

The highlight of the season of the season, 39 to 0, was run up by North Central over Illinois in the final game, 20 to 0. Marion of High Holman each marked up his touchdown.

Carrick's cracked one. Buck lived up to his name again at Lake Forest, the line plumb and running line impeccable for the touchdowns and a conversion which with a safety, was open to the best man.

Two of the best players at Shurtleff, George Henderson, former West Point Military academy performer and Bill Johnson, likely backfield starter, will be unable to face Principia. Henderson, the best punter on the squad, has declared ineligible and Johnson is injured.

James Millikan received his third consecutive conference win, drawing a 13 to 0 verdict to Illinois Wesleyan while signal caller, Ken Chapman, 12, so far had won 10 of 13 and 44 yards.

St. Vincents' 13 to 0 against McHenry Saturday, 13 to 0 with the captain, Fuzzy Hill, scoring both touchdowns.

Finish Sowing 200 Acres of Wheat on State Farms Here

Await Frost to Combine 65
Acres of Soybeans; Five Silos are Filled

The sowing of 200 acres of wheat on state hospital farms was completed Saturday. Ideal weather conditions have enabled the state farm workers to get the wheat in the ground in good shape, and it is believed the stand will be excellent.

Five big silos at the institution have been filled with ensilage. There was sufficient green corn available to make an abundance of winter feed. Plowing for corn to be planted next spring is getting under way. It is hoped to have 500 acres in corn on institution farms in 1937. A hundred acres will be sown in oats.

It is reported that a number of applications for membership have been received, but these will not be acted upon until the 100 charter members have considered them. The scarcity of accommodations in town for a larger club will no doubt be an important factor in the decision.

Cattle Market Rises Sharply

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—The cattle market scored its sharpest advance in months today, some selections rising to new peaks for the season. A sharp cut in receipts of 4,000 head below advanced estimates was largely responsible for the effort to accumulate beefers, and an additional strengthening factor was the official prediction that tomorrow's run also would be below recent averages for Tuesday.

Slighter steers and yearlings gained 25 to 50 cents, the latter getting a new top of $10.60, paid for 956 pound yearlings. Many loads of medium weight steers brought $10 to $10.40. The advance was shared by most classifications, including northwestern grassers, which comprised half of the crop of 18,000, the stock, stockers and feeders, bulls and vealers. Last week's average cost of slaughter steers was $9.05.

Hogs, on the other hand, developed acute weakness again, closing weak to 15 cents lower, with pigs, of which there was a large supply, selling off 25 cents. Sows were mostly steady. The top was $10.20. The run of 20,000 swine was the largest offered here since January. Last week's average cost of droves dropped 12 cents to $9.76 compared with $10.18 a year ago.

Fat lambs were mostly steady, considering quality. The top was $9.35 paid for natives by shippers.

Wholesale beef and pork prices were little changed although better fed animals had been received in Argentina. Besides, there was a tendency shown to increase estimates of wheat yields in Australia.

Chicago wheat futures closed unsteady 1-14 cents under Saturday's finish. Dec. 114-4, May 113-1, July 108-1, corn 8-1 down, Dec. 93-1.

Dec. 403, and rye at 1 decline to 1 advance, Dec. 82. Provisions results ranged from 15 cents lower to a gain of two cents.

At first, the Chicago wheat market tended upward responsive to Liverpool quotations higher than expected and because of reports that drought persisted throughout important areas of Australia.

Chicago Wheat Prices Weaken

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Setbacks of around two cents a bushel at Winnipeg did much to weaken the Chicago wheat market today.

From a top of $1.16 December wheat contracts here suffered a fall to $1.14. It was currently reported that to a large extent the Winnipeg wheat price reaction resulted from selling by European continental houses, and from dearth of any aggressive new export demand.

Late advices were that heavy rains are paving better than wheat, corn, or oats, and he plans to put in a bigger crop next year. Last summer he planted 30,000 plants on 12 acres of land he owns along the Sangamon river. The hot weather claimed 2,000 plants leaving 28,000. They produced well, so that practically the entire membership will be represented.

All qualified members from Morgan county should observe the following rules:

1. All entries must be in place by noon on Friday. They may be moved at three o'clock Saturday.

2. One single cockerel may be shown in the cockerel class of its breed.

3. One single pullet may be shown in the pullet class of its breed.

4. A pen will be constituted of one cockerel and three pullets. Only one pen may be shown by each member.

5. Single pullets and single cockerels will not be allowed to be used in pens.

6. All members limited to one (1) entry in each class.

7. All members limited to one (1) bushel of tomatoes to date.

The fruit grew to almost the bursting stage and about two weeks ago started to ripen. Up to this point more than 1,000 bushels have been carted to the Gibson City Canning company.

Weather conditions have not been good for picking the last few days, but Mr. Jones believes if the frost will hold off for a few weeks longer, the crop will run between 6,000 and 7,000 bushels of tomatoes.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Pats on the Back

ONE of the greatest forward passers ever to grace a gridiron was "Brick" Muller, California star back in 1920-21. Possessor of a great pair of hands, Muller averaged 63 yards on his tosses in 1920, was the tail of the country the following year, when Ohio State went to cage the Bears at the Rose Bowl game. In that famous contest, Muller, although bounded by a broken leg, was still all afternoon, on several occasions, showing his performance by pitching the ball for a touchdown pass that traveled distances variously estimated at from 65 to 75 yards, and sending the Bucks home with the tail end of a 28-0 score.

In addition to being rated the best end of the country in 1921, Muller also was a marvelous blocker and pass receiver.

BEGIN HERE TODAY—KATE and CAROLINE NEED your help. They farm with their grandfather, MAJOR SAM MCLEOD, and two old Negro servants, ALICE and ZEB. They are descendants of handsome MORGAN PRENTISS, who neglects her for FAIR EWELL, beautiful and wealthy. Alice, Mead, addicted to drink, mortgages his home and its furnishings, and the marriage ends. Alice, young mountain girl, decides to settle among the Blue Grass families who are lacking in money. Alice and Mead are packing to move into a dilapidated tenement house. Jeff arrives to inspect property. Alice, however, is unable to respond with insistence. The day for the Meads to move arrives.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY—CHAPTER XI

AFTER Kate and Caroline had finished painting the wooden work while there was a little paint left in one of the cans, Kate's brush was still temptingly wet. She said to Caroline, with an innocent look, "I must put Grandpa's name on the mailbox. There's a law about it."

"Do it neatly," Caroline warned. "The box sits right beside the front gate, you know."

Kate nodded and went out to the picket fence. With a corner of her brush she painted SAM MEAD on the box in eyen, blocked letters. But beneath it she painted RICKETY HOUSE in letters twice as large and very straggling. When Caroline came out and saw it she frowned and burst into laughter. She called her grandfather to see. He laughed, too.

The little joke caught on in town. Some of the younger set, sensing the fact that humor was the only tolerable approach to the Meads' new position, directed mail to them with that address attached.

There came a dance invitation to the Meads girls of Ricketty House before a week had passed. It was from Cynthia Chenault who would be a senior at Wellesley the following year. The card was engraved, but there was an informal note accompanying it. Kate read it aloud:

"Dear Country Jakes! You will spend the night at my house, of course. Come before dark. We'll have a tray dinner up in the library because the downstairs will be ready for the crush. I've two men coming for every girl, can you bear it? And a little orchestra you've heard over the radio. Louisville papers please copy. Don't worry about it."

KATE paused and scrutinized the paper. She said to Caroline with a sharp little frown between her eyes, "Cynthia's rubbed out something and written over it. At first she wrote 'don't worry about new dresses,' but she's rubbed out the last two words and

Morgan County Democratic Calendar of Coming Events

Oct 20—County Candidates will appear at Franklin for an evening meeting tonight.

Oct. 20.—The Young Colored Peoples Democratic Club will hold an organization meeting at their headquarters on South West St. at 7:30 p.m. tonight. All colored people between the ages of 18 and 35 are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. (Pol. Adv.)

County Clerk Fred Brockhouse has been busy for the past week preparing and sending out absentee ballots for the general election Nov. 3 and estimated yesterday that the increase in this type of work has been about 800 percent since he first took over the county clerk's office.

Back in the old days the county clerk usually sent out about 50 absentee ballots he said. This year he estimates that there will be about 400 absentee ballots cast in this county.

In order to secure absentee ballots voters are required to file an application either by mail or in person. All mail applications must be received five days prior to the election and all personal applications must be made three days prior to the general balloting. Mr. Brockhouse has been engaged in taking care of this detail of the election for the past week. People making personal applications are allowed to cast their ballots as soon as their application has been approved.

A ballot cast prior to the election will be sent to the judges of the election in the precinct in which the voter resides. It is counted along with the other ballots after the polls are closed on the day of the election.

Each envelope mailed out of the county clerk's office containing an absentee ballot, requires six cents in postage.
